Earth and Heaven: Pilgrims and Saints of Fatima

Evocative temporary exhibition of the Apparition of September 1917

Marco Daniel Duarte (commissioner)

From November 28, 2015 until October 31, 2016

From 09:00 am to 07:00 pm | free admission

St. Augustine's Social Hall | Basilica of the Most Holy Trinity

Resorting to the collection of the Museum of the Shrine of Fatima and to other Museological cores, one will try to show how Fatima attracted the attention of other different forms of spirituality and how some of the saints from the twentieth century are connected to it (Blessed Francisco and Jacinta Marto, Saint John Paul II, Saint Pius, Blessed Paul VI, Blessed John XXIII, Blessed Teresa of Calcutta, Servants of God as Sister Lucia, Luiza Andaluz, Manuel Nunes Formigão, among others).

The color of the Sun: the light of Fatima in the contemporary world

Evocative temporary exhibition of the Apparition of October 1917

Marco Daniel Duarte (commissioner)

From November 26, 2016 until October 31,2017

From 9:00 am to 7:00 pm | free admission

St. Augustine's Social Hall | Basilica of the Most Holy Trinity

Using as exhibition material the photographs from the 13th October 1917 and the direct and indirect reports about the Miracle of the Sun, the exhibit intends to recreate, through several sensorial mechanisms, scenery sets related with the landscape of the day of the last apparition of the Virgin Mary in Fatima. Set from this memory, the visitor will be aware that the Miracle of the Sun was not the moment of closure in the story of the apparitions, but the initial day from a story in which the pilgrim becomes the true main character.
